

PAK Sheung-chuen

Suggested class activities for Senior Primary

Artist: PAK Sheung-chuen

Level: Senior Primary

Theme: Discovering Secrets in Words

Suggested length: 4 hours

Teaching concept:

Contemporary art encompasses diverse art forms, one of which, conceptual art, is particularly difficult for students to grasp. PAK Sheung-chuen is good at expressing his ideas through conceptual art. His works are closely related to daily life, giving them a human touch, and are easy to understand. He emphasises that his inspiration comes mostly from observing and recording everyday objects, reflecting on them and then transforming them into works of art.

This course aims to help students learn about a new art-making approach, using the concepts behind PAK's works instead of conventional art approaches. The students experience conceptual art through PAK's approach and style.

Required background knowledge:

1. Students should have learned about traditional art forms, such as painting, sculpture, printmaking and ceramics.
2. Students should have learned about graffiti.

Teaching goals:

1. Learn about and appreciate PAK's creative approach and style through his video.
2. Learn about the characteristics of conceptual art.

Description:

I live in a small house,

Breathing

Until I use up all the air in the whole house.

One night as I was sleeping on my bed, staring at the ceiling, thinking of nothing, I indistinctly heard my own breathing and suddenly asked myself, 'How long would it take to breathe in all the air in this room?' That's how this work was conceived. And then I had a chance to try out the idea at the Busan Biennial in Korea. I rented an 18 m<sup>2</sup> flat (195 ft<sup>2</sup>), about the size of a very small flat in Hong Kong. I lived in this small flat as usual, but I collected the air I breathed in transparent plastic bags until the whole apartment was filled with these plastic bags filled with my exhaled air. The whole process took 10 days. It felt like the flat had become part of my life.

Description:

I drew a horizontal line on a map of Victoria Harbour. The horizontal line went through five parts of the shoreline. I collected a bottle of seawater from every part, ensuring each bottle had the same amount of water. I put the five bottles on a shelf at home, and a horizon emerged.

- Introduce the characteristics of conceptual art, using PAK's artworks as examples:

Characteristics of conceptual art

- Art can be used to express ideas.
- The ideas embedded in an artwork are more important than the materials used.
- Anything that can be used to express ideas can become an artistic medium.

3. Play the “Artist Video mp4” (Suggested length: 15 mins).

Before playing the video, remind the students to pay attention to PAK’s sources of inspiration and the artistic media he uses.

Select parts of the video, depending on your chosen area of focus, pausing as needed to explain the content or ask questions.

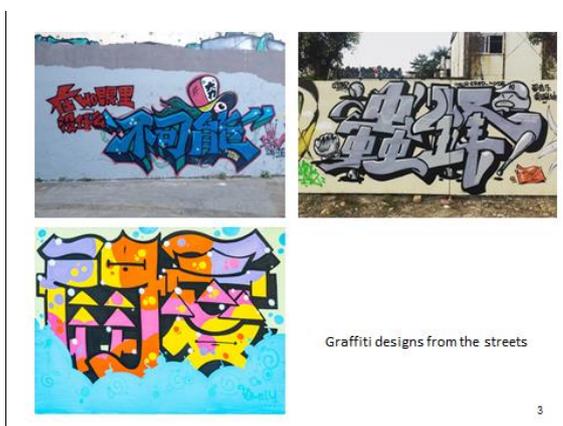

Suggested Q&A:

- Where does PAK get his inspiration?
(From daily life. For example, The Horizon Placed at Home expresses his thoughts about city life, Full Moon expresses his homesickness about the Mid-Autumn Festival as he was away from home, and Breathing in a House was inspired by the living environment.)
- What are the characteristics of PAK’s artworks?
(He seeks inspiration from daily life; he makes detailed observations, recordings and reflections, and transforms his thoughts into creative ideas; he creates artworks through continuous trials, without limiting the creative media possibilities.)
