Reply:

Since 2018-19, the Leisure and Cultural Services Department (LCSD) has been working in collaboration with the Education Bureau (EDB) in taking forward the reading-for-all campaign “Discover and Share the Joy of Reading” to promote a city-wide reading culture. In 2019-20, the Hong Kong Public Libraries (HKPL) held over 11 500 reading promotion activities through the HKPL network in collaboration with strategic partners from different sectors.

In 2020-21, the HKPL will continue to launch large-scale publicity programmes under the theme of “Discover and Share the Joy of Reading” to encourage reading across the city. The programmes include:

- (i) continuing to organise over 14 400 reading promotion activities in collaboration with the EDB, education sector, community organisations, District Councils, local authors and publishers. These activities include tie-in programmes for the World Book Day, pop-up library events, Summer Reading Fiesta, Library Festival, etc.;
- (ii) extending outreach services to different communities, mainly targeting young children and families;
- (iii) inviting local authors to attend major library promotion activities and strengthening collaboration with the publishers in organising reading and literary art activities;
- (iv) carrying out minor refurbishment works for libraries to create joyful and lively ambience to attract children and family visitors;
- (v) enhancing community engagement by organising promotion activities to engage the public and recruiting people from different sectors in the community to plan activities together or to serve as storytelling ambassadors; and
- (vi) strengthening publicity through different channels/platforms and interacting with readers through social media and interactive platforms to arouse public awareness of leisure and purposeful reading.

In addition to existing resources, additional expenditures estimated at about $35 million and $45 million will be required by the HKPL in 2019-20 and 2020-21 respectively to cover the staff cost, hiring of contract services and other operational expenses arising from the above promotion activities.
